

Join us for a Kentucky 25x'25 Town Hall Meeting

- Is energy a new market for Kentucky Agriculture?
- Can changes in the way Kentucky uses energy dramatically affect your bottom line?

If you would like to learn more, make plans now to attend the Kentucky Rural Energy Consortium (KREC) town hall meetings to explore new ideas and opportunities for securing Kentucky's energy and economic future.

The meetings will provide the latest information, answer questions and ask for input and support in developing a 25x'25 Roadmap for Kentucky. 25x'25 is a national, grassroots initiative that envisions a new energy future – "By 2025, America's farms, forests and ranches will provide 25 percent of the total energy consumed in the United States while continuing to produce safe, abundant and affordable food, feed and fiber."

The Kentucky meetings will open a dialogue with ranchers, farmers, forest land owners, business organizations and interested citizens throughout the state. Come prepared to share and discuss your ideas, perspectives and concerns on renewable energy development such as biofuels, biomass, solar energy, sustainability and emerging economic opportunities.

By the year 2025, the potential economic impact for Kentucky could be – $17.8 billion overall, with $1.9 billion in net farm income, and 162,000 additional jobs!
